EXCELLENCE: TOP TEACHING AWARD EARNED BY NPS PROF.

The school's top award for teaching excellence was presented to a faculty member in the Administrative Sciences Department during the June graduation ceremonies.

Associate Prof. Doug Moses earned the Rear Admiral John J. Schieffelin Award for Excellence in Teaching based upon polling results from 940 students and alumni, Provost Harrison Shull said during the award presentation.

"The mission of the Naval Postgraduate School is to increase the combat efficiency of the fleet through advanced education of naval officers," Shull said. "It is especially important therefore that we recognize the excellence in teaching of the faculty in accomplishing that mission."

Assoc. Prof. Doug Moses

Quoting from comments received through the poll, Shull said that Moses "exemplifies all of the qualities a good teacher should have. He is dedicated, well-prepared, competent, very caring, and has an excellent perspective on the students' positions and points of view."

Moses has "a tremendous relationship with all of his students," said Cmdr. Mike Tryon, administrative sciences curricular officer. "I can't tell you how many times

I've seen him here on the weekend, prepping for classes and meeting with students. Whatever it takes to get the job done, Doug does that."

According to Prof. David Whipple, administrative sciences department chairman: "Doug has been one of our best young classroom instructors for a number of years. He has managed to excite his students in a variety of financial management courses. He is certainly deserving of the recognition."

The Schieffelin Award is co-sponsored by the Naval Postgraduate School Foundation. Moses, an NPS faculty member since 1985, became the 24th recipient of the award.

FYI

NEW POLICY ISSUED

Sexual orientation is no longer a bar to military service following a new policy issued by President Clinton on Monday.

Secretary of Defense Les Aspin said, "It is the policy of the Department of Defense to judge the suitability of persons to serve in the armed forces on the basis of their conduct.

"Sexual orientation is considered a personal and private matter, and homosexual orientation is not a bar to service entry or continued service unless manifested by homosexual conduct."

In a memo to the Secretaries of the Army, Navy, Air Force and the Chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff, Aspin listed specific criteria and guidelines for the military services concerning homosexual conduct that included: "Service members will not be asked or be required to reveal their sexual orientation; servicemembers will be separated for homosexual conduct; commanders and investigating agencies will not initiate inquiries or investigations solely to determine a member's sexual orientation; commanders will continue to initiate inquiries or investigations when there is credible information that a basis for discharge or disciplinary actions exists; intent to engage in homosexual acts will be sufficient to initiate separation."

The Secretary of Defense said, "Separation procedures that I established on February 3, 1993, will remain in effect until October 1, 1993."

GRASS PARKING AUTHORIZED AREAS

Authorized areas for grass parking are along Morse Road, east of the University Way intersection down to the ball field; adjacent to the Del Monte Lake by the annex; near the tennis court by the pool; and along a section of Lake Drive from the Garden Road intersection to the Senior Officer's Quarters.

NAVAL POSTGRADUATE SCHOOL

NPS achieved another first recently when it successfully tested a new link with the Naval Satellite Operations

Center in Pt. Mugu.

The arrangement enables the satellite center to test command and telemetry software using an NPS lab, said Prof. Brij Agrawal. NAVSOC can initiate tests via modem and receive telemetry data from an NPS satellite, which was once the qualifications model for the Navy's fleet communications satellite program. The link will allow NAVSOC to simulate emergency repositioning procedures and determine the likelihood of success whenever an anomaly occurs in a satellite's orbit.

Agrawal notes that the cooperation with a Navy operational center will provide greater service-relevant thesis opportunities for NPS space operations and space engineering students. In turn, Agrawal says, it makes the satellite, which is "a national asset," available for use beyond the boundaries of the NPS campus. The NPS satellite laboratory, consisting of the Navy communications satellite and associated test equipment, became operational in 1990.

SPORTS/REC.

NPS Rugby Team Eyes Nationals

The Monterey Military Rugby Team is made up of players from all military installations in the Monterey Bay area including the postgraduate school.

With a good mix of new and old players the team is set to play in the second division of the Northern California Rugby Union and is preparing to make a strong run at the Military National Championship, according to Lt. Bill Schmitt, NPS student and rugby player. The team recently won the third division of the Las Vegas Seven's Tournament and will continue to play tournaments throughout the summer and fall.

Schmitt said, "The team is looking for people who are interested in coming out and participating in a fun, healthy sport. One of the truly great aspects of rugby is that skills learned in other sports like soccer and football can be built on to make a great rugger.

"If you are of stout heart, good physical condition and reasonable sanity, practices are currently being held on Tuesdays and Thursdays at the Pacific Grove Middle School at 5:30 p.m. Anyone interested is invited to come out and join in one of the country's fastest growing sports."

For further information, contact the Rugby Club President Dave Buesking at 373-6369 or Rich Venable at 372-0339.
